Red Agent Told To Spy on U. S.

OTTAWA, March 4 (AP)—The Canadian government in a 3000-word statement today declared the Russian military attache here had been instructed by Moscow to obtain data on atomic bomb material, radar, American electronic shells and the movements of American troops and that some data had been obtained from Canadian official secret legislation. Four civil employees were named.

New British Note Prods Reds on Iran

LONDON, March 4 (AP)—A foreign office spokesman disclosed today Great Britain has asked Russia to explain her refusal to withdraw from Iran in accordance with the British-Russian-Iranian treaty.

A British note was said to have been dispatched to the British charge d'affaires, Frank Roberts, in Moscow for communication to the Soviet government.

The text of the note also was reported dispatched to the State Department at Washington.

The spokesman said the note was dispatched before the British cabinet met this morning, less than 16 hours after Foreign Sec. Bevin returned from a rest in the country.

Roberts was asked by his government to "make inquiries" of the Soviet government concerning the Russian refusal to withdraw troops from northwestern Iran.

Sources at the foreign office indicated they took a serious view of the situation.

Iran's Envoy Urges U. S. Join British Move

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala today called on the United States to join Britain in asking Russia to explain her decision to keep Red troops in Iran contrary to treaty obligations.

Ala told newsmen after a call at the State Department he left this request with Secy. Byrnes. He said he realized the United States' position in the Iranian matter was different from that of Britain, because the agreement calling for withdrawal of troops by last Saturday was strictly a British-Russian-Iranian pact.

But Ala said that the United States did sign the 1943 declaration of Tehran in which the Big Three affirmed their respect for the sovereignty and independence of Iran.

Red Troops Pour Into Manchuria, Say Chinese

CHUNGKING, March 4 (AP)—Chinese sources asserted today that Russian troops are continuing to pour into Manchuria in an unceasing flow.

These sources declared Soviet occupation forces there numbering 300,000 six months ago, had been almost doubled.

TEHRAN, March 4 (AP)—Rioting broke out during a demonstration by the Leftist Tudeh party in front of the parliament building today. Police said four persons were injured and six arrested.

Britain to Unify Armed Forces

LONDON, March 4 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee told Commons today the British army, navy and air force "should regard themselves as part of a single service" during the era of atomic armament.

Trolley Homes

CHICAGO, March 4 (AP)—Three hundred outmoded street cars have been released by the Chicago surface lines for sale as housing.

Costing $300 each, they will have electric heating units, but owners must be willing to settle down. The wheels will be taken off.

"The evidence reveals that these operations were carried on by certain members of the staff of the Soviet embassy at Ottawa under direct instructions from Moscow," the report said.

Russian agents were instructed by Moscow in August, 1945, near the end of the war in the Pacific, to obtain "information as to the transfer of American troops from Europe to the United States and the Pacific," the two-man royal investigating commission declared in its report to Premier King.

The location of headquarters of a score of United States Army divisions or corps, and those of the U. S. Ninth Army, were sought from Col. Nicolai Zabotin, military attache of the Soviet embassy in Ottawa, the announcement said.

The report declared Col. Zabotin had been instructed to get the following information:

1—Particulars as to the material of which the atomic bomb is composed; its technological process and drawings.

2—Details of electronic shells used by the American Navy.

3—Samples of uranium-235 with details as to the plant where it was produced.

4—Location of the Brazilian infantry division (which fought in Italy) and lists of the Canadian army divisions which had returned to Canada.

500 in N. E. Will Join in Phone Strike

More than 500 long lines telephone operators, maintenance and test men in New England, will go out on strike at 6:01 a. m. Thursday with more than 20,000 other long lines workers throughout the nation, Albert Brogle, president of Local 8, Federation of Long Lines Telephone Workers, announced today.

The local group is affiliated with the National Federation of Telephone Workers which ordered the strike following a breakdown of wage negotiations between the union and the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., in New York.

The strike will tie up all long distance calls throughout the nation and it is expected emergency calls will be put on a priority basis.

In Boston 325 long distance operators will be called out along with 75 maintenance and test men. Other points in New England to be affected by the projected strike are Worcester, Springfield, Pittsfield, Providence and Houlton, Me. At Houlton, according to Brogle, the company has a receiving station for transatlantic calls and four maintenance men there will go on strike. Brogle said this action would put calls from Europe, coming through this station, on a priority basis.

The Milk st. exchange, which houses the long-lines boards, will be picketed, Brogle said, but local exchanges will not.

Local operators may, as individuals, join in sympathy with the strike, Brogle said, but he does not know of no organized action planned by their union.

Brogle said the union had decided not to picket the local exchanges in order to preclude the possibility of the company obtaining restraining injunctions against the pickets on the ground they were not employed in the buildings affected.

He also said that news telegrams, as far as he had been informed, would not be affected by the strike.

Every state, with the exception of six in the western part of the nation, will be affected by the strike. Henry Mayer, of New York, counsel for several telephone workers' unions, said the long lines workers will be joined by more than 180,000 local call operators, maintenance and repair men in virtually every section of the country except New England.

Grace Barry, president of the Telephone Operators Union Local E-1120, said local telephone operators will not join in the proposed strike. She pointed out her group is affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL.

She said, however, the executive board of her group will meet tomorrow evening to discuss developments in the nation wide telephone situation.

CIO Delays GM Parley on Strike

DETROIT, March 4 (AP)—Negotiations between General Motors and the striking CIO United Auto Workers were postponed this morning until 2 p. m. Mediator James F. Dewey announced.

Harry W. Anderson, GM vice president, said the corporation would be willing to talk about "anything the union wants to discuss."

Asked if the proposal for arbitration and the company's proposal for a secret vote among the strikers would be on the agenda, Anderson said: "Yes, if they want to talk about it."

Officer Morals In Reich Probed

By RICHARD O'REGAN

FRANKFURT, Germany, March 4 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Miller G. White, deputy chief of staff in Europe, said tonight the Army probably would investigate charges German women were permitted to live in bachelor quarters within the U. S. forces' headquarters compound here.

He said the Army was not going to raid officers' quarters, but if individual cases were reported the Army probably would take "strict disciplinary action" for conduct unbecoming gentlemen. A high officer said there probably were dozens of women spending one or more nights within the closely guarded enclosure which contains Army headquarters and officers and civilians billets.

A U. S. Army chaplain said the "prevalence" of immorality in Europe had been brought into the open by publication of a letter asserting German girls were allowed to "live with" American officers at the compound.

The letter, written by a British girl and published in the Army newspaper Stars and Stripes, said in part:

"Why should German girls be allowed to live in the compound with American officers? I know of several instances and it necessary would lead officers to men I consider to be rotten to the core."

"Maybe they have not lost anything in this war or suffered any hardship, and that is why they can forget the Krauts they are with are part of the evil which caused so much suffering in this world."

Col. L. Curtis Tiernan of Kansas City, chaplain for the European theater, said the letter revealed the "prevalence of looseness and immorality, and the general breakdown of Army discipline in Europe."

Another chaplain said he was "glad the scandal has come at last into the open."

Officers and civilians living in the compound, a barbed wire enclosed area of several square miles which was formerly a part of the I. G. Farben Industrie, are permitted to take girls into the compound any time except between 10:30 p. m. and 8:30 a. m.

On weekends, girls are permitted to stay in the compound over Sunday, but must leave early Monday morning. An officer must sign his guest in and out. Guards said these orders came from the headquarters command.

The register showed that guests were signed in Saturday night by 120 civilians and officers including ranks as high as lieutenant colonel.

U. S. Officer Killed By Russian Sentry

BERLIN, March 4 (AP)—The United States provost marshal's office said today a Russian sentry killed an American lieutenant when the officer failed to obey a call to halt.

Victim was Lt. James Wilson, 21, an ordnance officer from Bryan, Tex.

Wilson, riding in the back seat of an automobile with another officer, was taking a German woman to her home in the Russian section of the city. Losing their way, the Americans stopped to ask directions from a German civilian.

Halted near a building guarded by Russian troops, the sentry said the Americans sped away when the Russians approached to question them. The sentry said he fired two warning shots in the air and then fired at the back of the car.

The provost marshal's office also said that Pvt. Vernon Stotler, 20, of Carlisle, Pa., was shot to death at midnight Saturday in a cate argument.

Clinton Man Held in Death Of Divorcee

HUDSON, March 4—William B. Schadas, 48, of Union st., Clinton, was held without bail on a charge of first degree murder in Hudson court in the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Myrtle E. Miles, 48.

Schadas, who waived examination before Judge Fred E. Morris, was taken to East Cambridge jail to await grand jury action.

An autopsy, performed by Dr. John Colombo, showed 12 stab wounds in the woman's body.

Mrs. Miles, a divorcee, died in her cottage in Oak st. a few minutes after she ran out of the house screaming for help.

Hearing her cries, Manuel Salaminio, Samuel Dimouro and Vito Epaminonda, all living nearby, rushed to the scene and carried Mrs. Miles, who had collapsed on the sidewalk, back into her home. As they entered, Schadas fled by a rear door and was seen by Mrs. Epaminonda darting into a nearby woods.

She called police, and Patrolman Henry L. Fahey flushed Schadas from his hiding place in the woods at gunpoint.

George W. Rowell resigned today as chairman of the Republican State Committee, announcing that his action was for "purely personal" reasons.

"My duties as a practicing attorney make it necessary for me to give my full time and attention to my profession," he said. "However, I will be ready at all times to assist my successor and my party."

Love Tryst Peeper Admits Mill Killings

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., March 4 (INS) — A part-time slaughterhouse worker today confessed the murder of a middle-aged choir director and his comely sweetheart. Sheriff Albert Skirvin announced Joseph Luther Woolridge, 29, a stocky, muscular Negro with a police record for sex offenses, admitted slaying Russell Koonitz, 43, and Mrs. Phyllis Coleman, 33-year-old brunette who sang VICTIM'S PET—Trizie, pet dog of Mrs. Phyllis Coleman, Bloomington, Ind., murder victim, has been whimpering and staying in her mistress' room. She is being held by a neighbor, Malba Linthian.

in Koonitz' choir. Skirvin quoted Woolridge as admitting:

"I walked in on the man and woman at the old stone mill . . . as they were in intimate embrace. I recognized the man and killed him when he tried to kill me. I strangled the woman so she wouldn't tell."

In his confession Woolridge denied that he had any motive other than self-defense. Skirvin quoted him as saying:

"I did it and sex was not my reason. I didn't have any reason. I didn't aim to do it. I had nothing against those people."

Woolridge said he was hunting groundhogs and birds near the old Hunter stone mill, about two miles northeast of Bloomington, Friday afternoon.

The sheriff said the Negro reached the mill, in the old quarry, about 3 o'clock, and entered the ramshackle tool shed where he discovered the trysters. He quoted Woolridge:

"Koonitz and that woman were there together. The man leaped up and turned on me with a hard look. He yelled: 'Do you recognize me? Do you know me?'"

"I told Mr. Koonitz I knew who he was and his face got red. He said: 'You ain't never gonna tell about this.'"

Then, the Negro said, the former Sunday school superintendent rushed him. The sheriff, who refused to read the confession in its entirety, quoted Woolridge:

"He started for me with his head down and his fists doubled up."

"I stepped to one side and he charged past me."

"Then I knew he meant to come back at me so I picked up a window weight and threw it at him."

"The window weight hit Koonitz in the back of the head and he dropped to the floor like a chunk of lead."

Woolridge said he leaned over the prostrate Koonitz and felt his pulse "and it didn't seem like he had any."

During the battle with Koonitz, Woolridge apparently was oblivious of the terrified woman. Skirvin quoted him as saying:

"I straightened up, scared. 'I looked at the woman and she stared at me with her big brown eyes. She said: 'Well, what are you going to do to me?'"

"Well, I knew I had to kill her or she'd tell on me for killing Mr. Koonitz, even though I hadn't meant to do it. So I grabbed up a length of rope and got it around Mrs. Coleman's neck."

Sheriff Skirvin quoted the Negro as describing the pretty choir singer's death:

"She screamed, but not for long. I expect I held that rope very tight on her neck for five or 10 minutes and then I knew she was dead, too."

Skirvin said the confession indicated Woolridge, apparently realizing the enormity of his crime, then became panicky.

He ripped parts of Mrs. Coleman's dress.

Kidnap Suspect Declares Child Taken His Own

SPRINGFIELD, March 4—Joseph D. Clarke, 31-year-old father of five children, was held in $2000 today after he pleaded not guilty to one of the most bizarre abductions in criminal history here—the kidnaping of a baby girl, daughter of Mrs. Mary Brown, Pine st. Saturday night, on the alleged grounds of pater-nity.

The infant, six months old, was spirited from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brown after they had gone out for the evening and left it in care of Robert Lambertson, 15. Police recovered the baby, unharmed, at the home of Lawrence Bruce, West Springfield friend of Clarke, early yesterday morning.

The officers said Bruce told them Clarke had brought the child to him Saturday night and asked him to keep her for him a little while. Clarke said the baby was his own, police quoted Bruce as saying.

The Lambertson youth told Mr. and Mrs. Brown when they came home shortly before 1 a. m. Sunday that the baby had been taken by a man who came in the kitchen door and went directly to the little girl's bedroom.

Lamberton said, "The man told me, 'Don't worry, it's perfectly all right,' and then he wrapped a blanket around the baby and took her away in an automobile."

The Browns called police and the youth gave a description. Authorities would not reveal today how they had discovered the baby's whereabouts or how their investigation led so quickly to the arrest of Clarke.

Mrs. Brown denied vigorously that Clarke was the child's father, they said.

Clarke is a bartender. Judge William J. Granfield continued the case to March 11.

Death Plunge Off Empire Building

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—A man, tentatively identified by police as Peter S. Beck, 50, of Roosevelt, N. Y., plunged to death today from an upper floor of the 102-story Empire State building, hitting a sixth-floor setback.

Police were unable to determine immediately from which floor the man jumped or fell.

U. S. OUT OF RED A MONTH

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Government receipts exceeded spending by $168,234,003.27 in February, Treasury figures disclosed today. The surplus broke a 47-month string of monthly deficits running back to March, 1942.

Magistrate E. David Keiser ordered John Emmil, Jr., held for a coroner's jury after Detective Thomas Blong testified Emmil told him he strangled Dennis Michale Emmil, and then pounded the child's head against a table.

The child's mother, Fern Mary Emmil, 25, listened stoically.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Leonard M. Propper asked her if Dennis was her child.

"Yes," she replied.

"Is this man the father?" Propper asked, indicating Emmil.

"No," she answered.

Blong testified Emmil told him this story:

After attending his father's funeral Saturday Emmil, accompanied by his wife and Dennis, went to the home of Mrs. Florence Mulholland. The Emmils and the Mulhollands went to a near-by taproom, leaving the child with the Mulhollands' 14-year-old daughter.

Emmil tossed a glass of beer in his wife's face, then returned to the Mulholland home, taking the child to his father's home where he killed it.

Sgt. David Ghrham said Emmil walked into a police station later and said, "Lock me up. I have just killed a baby."

These Days Picking a Loser

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

ONE OF the major New Deal political methods since 1940 has been to pick the Republican candidate for President. They never put on a campaign for anyone quite equal to that which suddenly made Wendell Willkie an international figure of primary importance.

Harold Stassen

If you go back to the columnists and commentators of 1939 and 1940, you will find that all the New Dealers, before the convention, first favored and then opposed Tom Dewey, supported Wendell Willkie, viciously attacked Robert A. Taft.

Of course, after Mr. Willkie was nominated, these New Dealers went right back to where they started, supporting Franklin D. Roosevelt and opposing Willkie. They were for him for nomination; against him for election.

In 1944, they uniformly favored Tom Dewey. They violently opposed John W. Bricker. They were again picking the Republican candidate for the Republican party.

After Tom Dewey was nominated, these same columnists and commentators hit Dewey with the whole book. They are at it again. These columnists and commentators who did not vote Republican in 1932, 1936, 1940 or 1944, are busy picking the Republican candidate.

Their man now is Harold Stassen. They are opposed to John W. Bricker, Arthur Vandenberg, Robert A. Taft, Tom Dewey.

But they favor Harold Stassen. And they say that if they cannot get Stassen, they will take Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr.

THE ONLY DIFFERENCE is that the Republicans are finally on to them. I recently saw a list of columnists and commentators that Republicans follow like a score card.

Every time these New Dealers speak well of a Republican, his party members make a mark against him on the score card.

They are watching these Trojan horses closely. As a matter of straight politics, these New Dealers have just about killed off Harold Stassen, who, in spite of all that he does to make himself a second Willkie, is getting nowhere within his own party.

As of today, despite pollsters, who seem to keep away from anyone who will vote in the convention, and New Deal columnists, John W. Bricker is the most popular of the prospective candidates.

As a matter of procedure, however, the voters in New York and Ohio will settle this question. Tom Dewey must carry New York in 1946 when he runs for governor and John Bricker must carry Ohio in the same year when he will run for United States Senator.

If both are elected, they will be the outstanding contenders. Whoever is defeated is out.

THE BIG BATTLE in 1946 will, however, be for Congress. The Republicans expect to carry the House of Representatives and to improve their situation in the Senate.

Their most strident opposition will come from the CIO-PAC. Already the "New Republic" has issued the PAC guide-book.

This is a special supplement of that paper which tells the PAC boys whom to oppose in every district of every state.

They apparently dislike almost as many Democrats as Republicans, which is characteristic of liberals. Vito Marcantonio of New York gets a perfect good mark.

But Clare Hoffman of Michigan gets a perfect bad mark. It is all done by pluses and minuses and seems so scholarly. My guess is that it will have no effect on the actual vote.

Few Senators get a perfect mark from the "New Republic." The only ones I note are Green of Rhode Island, Murdock of Utah, Tunnell of Delaware, and Mitchell of Washington.

REPUBLICANS KNOW that Senators and Representatives are elected locally — often on their personalities and nearly always on local issues and situations.

Their problem is more to keep the national committee an all-year functioning agency for its chairman, Herbert Brownell, quits at the end of this month.

Ration Cheats Cost N. E. $5,285,063

More than 100,000 persons, involved in "small time cheating" against rationing regulations, have cost the New England public more than $5,000,000 from the beginning of the ration program to the present, the regional OPA office announced today.

In a summary of infractions against rationing regulations, the OPA said that upwards of $5,285,063 was lost and that $2,764,958 of this total was in 1944 alone. Enforcement actions by the OPA, the statement said, resulted in imposition of more than 1000 prison sentences and closing of 6000 stores, 5000 gasoline filling stations and 3000 restaurants for periods ranging from one month to duration of rationing.

Most frequent violations, according to the OPA, were in food, consumer durables, wearing apparel and industrial materials, in that order.

Although only about one in 100 persons knowingly violated regulations, and most of these were "small time cheaters," the OPA said organized racketeering in rationed articles at times presented a difficult problem.

Housewives were reported as being particularly helpful in rationing enforcement by keeping a close watch on price schedules and reporting violations.

Biggest attempted rationing fraud was the attempt to peddle 4,500,000 counterfeit red ration points in Greater Boston, halted by OPA.

Mayor to Check All Constables

An immediate check on the records of all 30 constables now employed by the city will be made to determine if any of these men have a criminal record, Mayor Curley announced today.

The mayor said he has obtained cards from the chief probation officer of the superior court and all constables will be asked to fill out the cards with such pertinent facts as previous employment, place of residence, court appearances and convictions.

Curley said he was taking the action to protect "the administration and the city." He added that he did not want a recurrence "like that of the other day."

The mayor was obviously referring to the appointment of Frank J. Moriarty alias "Turkey" Joyce, as a city constable. Moriarty was paroled from State Prison in 1944 to enter the Merchant Marine after serving 12 years of accumulated sentences for a series of armed robberies.

Vet's British Step-Family Loves New Malden Home

That home is where the heart is was proved again today when a 15-year-old British girl arrived at her new Malden home and said, "I love it here already, because I love my mother and my brother and my baby sister and our new father."

Sylvia Higgins, 15, and her brother, Kenneth, 13, are the children of Mrs. Delbert W. Keen. After their father died, their father died, their mother met Keen, then stationed near her home at Cheltenham, Gloucestershire, and now a discharged veteran.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Keen of East Border rd., Malden, he was married to Mrs. Higgins in June, 1943, in London, and they have an 11-month-old daughter, Miriam Irene.

Delbert returned to the States last fall, and today his little family was reunited after a trip over on the Queen Mary.

"We had ice cream and peanuts, soda pop and candy on the train coming from New York. What could be more jolly for a young

Curley Confers On 2d Tunnel To East Boston

Need of a second vehicular tunnel to East Boston to absorb increasing traffic through Summer tunnel was discussed today at a meeting of city and state planning boards and Boston Elevated officials at Mayor Curley's office.

Merrill J. Duffy, chief engineer of the State Planning Board, told the conference that the Summer tunnel was built to handle 6,000,000 cars yearly but that 7,300,000 had used it in 1945.

At the present rate of traffic increase, he said 9,000,000 would seek to use the tunnel by 1950 and 12,000,000 by 1955 to 1960.

He estimated it would require four years to build the new tunnel and that, on its completion, it would be used only for outgoing traffic, with the Summer tunnel handling traffic from East Boston.

Under a bill soon to come before the Legislature, the new tunnel would be built at State expense and operated by the Commonwealth, while the city would continue to operate Summer tunnel, being reimbursed by the State for the cost of its operation.

Elevated officials said their engineers estimated a second tunnel would cost $17,870,000 for actual construction, and that no street widenings or land takings would be necessary because a tube construction for Summer tunnel cost $11,800,000.

Additional cost for the second project is due to increased material and labor costs.

The conference also agreed that the State planning board would seek an amendment to a $5,000,000 legislative appropriation for extension of the rapid transit from Maverick sq. to Logan Airport, asking an additional $2,500,000 for the project since the original amount would be insufficient.

It was also agreed the Legislature would be asked to grant priority to veterans for employment on the project.

The mayor also announced he had reconsidered his refusal several weeks ago to approve elimination of the dangerous crossing at Bird st., Dorchester, and said the city would go ahead with it at a municipal cost of $25,000.

The federal government would contribute $50,000 more and the New Haven Railroad $25,000 now, he said, and he had agreed to go ahead because eventually the city would have to do the work and pay the entire cost.

Pleas Begun For 21 Nazis

By AUSTEN LAKE

Boston Evening American Staff Writer

NUERNBERG, March 4—The mediocre defense counsel attempting to save the 21 top flight Nazi hoodlums from the hangman's noose began pleading their cases before the International Tribunal today—but their chances are slim indeed if an informal poll I conducted over the week-end is any indication.

While the trial was in recess, I repaired to the picturesque castle, once the proud home of Roland Graf von Fabre, and now used as press headquarters by the corps of correspondents covering the world's greatest war crimes trial for the press of all lands.

In an upstairs lounge, lavish in its appointments, I rounded up 31 correspondents who rank as oldest residents among the newsmen assigned to the trial, and sounded them out for a cross section opinion.

I wanted to know what this representative group, made up of eight different nationalities and most of them career journalists steeped in Europe's affairs, thought of the chance each defendant had for escaping the gallows.

The consensus was that of the 21 defendants, nine are sure to hang, two more are doubtful, but possible candidates for the rope, and of the other 10 only one will be acquitted, while the rest receive terms in prison at hard labor.

This prediction is a composite of the thoughts, ideas, opinions and guesswork of British, French, American and Russian correspondents whose nations are represented with judges on the international bench.

I checked authorities here and learned that three of the four judges can doom a defendant; that a unanimous vote is not necessary.

The nine whose fate seems sealed are Herman Goering, Joachim von Ribbentrop, Gen. Wilhelm Keitel, Ernst Kaltenbrunner, Alfred Rosenberg, Julius Streicher, Fritz Sauckel, Dr. Arthur Seyss Inquart and Hans Frank.

The pair whose lives still hang in the balance, in the opinion of the press corps, are Adm. Karl Doenitz and Gen. Alfred Jodl.

The single defendant most correspondents expect to go free is Hans Fritzsche, who was head of Reich radio propaganda.

Some of the nine assigned to die are too well known to need a word of explanation of their crimes—Goering the airman, who bombed helpless cities and Rosenberg and Streicher, who led the campaign to exterminate the Jews.

Less familiar are such names as Fritz Sauckel, head man in Thuringian province who the notorious prison camp at Buchenwald is located; and Seyss Inquart, held responsible for atrocities committed on the Dutch while he was Nazi commissioner of that occupied land.

But of all the defendants, the case of Rudolph Hess provoked the most curious reaction among the correspondents as they heatedly argued guilt and innocence among Nazis.

Not a single journalist showed any rancor or bitterness when onetime Nazi bigwig who was deputy Fuehrer in 1941 when he flew to England.

There is considerable doubt in the press here as to what success American Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson will have in persuading the tribunal to accept the revolutionary legal contention that those who initiate wars of aggression are as guilty as those guilty of wanton rape, murder and pillage.

If the prosecution should score on this score, it is thought likely all 21 defendants will climb the gallows steps.

There seems little mystery in how the judges feel about the defendants and what line they will draw in voting on guilt. The Russian, Gen. Nikitchenko, and the Frenchman, Donnedieu D. Vabres, can be considered death-minded for nearly all 21.

In contrast, Sir Geoffrey Lawrence of Britain and former Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle have displayed hard, unemotional, careful of technicalities and scrupulously guided by evidence.

The defense counsel are expected to swing into high gear by the end of this week. They are far from the most competent in Germany, since a majority of the best legal talent here belonged to the Nazi party and thus is discredited.

Who Said, 'Say It With Flowers'

Her husband, William, came home from work on their third anniversary to present her with flowers and $25—but wound up knocking her over a hassock, Mrs. Anita D. Knott, 26, School st., Groveland, testified in Salem probate court today.

Judge Costello took under advisement her uncontested divorce petition, in which she charges cruelty.

Mrs. Knott said after giving her the presents her mate remarked she did not seem to be very affectionate. She told him she had to wash the dishes. Whereupon, she testified, he took back the $25 and knocked her over the hassock, telling her he would give her half an hour to drum up some affection, else she would have to get out.

She chose to go out, she said, but he made a dive for her as she donned her coat. Mrs. Knott added she had eluded him and barricaded herself in a spare room for the night.

Boston's new parking and traffic regulations to relieve congestion during the peak hours of travel in the morning and late afternoon were put into effect today by the Boston Traffic Commission.

Safety in Public Buildings Urged

The legislative recess commission on safety of persons in buildings, appointed after the Coconut Grove disaster, today recommended legislation to make publicly-owned buildings observe the same safety measures as those privately owned.

"For years we have proceeded on the principle the sovereign can do no wrong," the report stated. "As a result we have State institutions, schools, hospitals and penal institutions that are not safe for inmates. They should be made to conform to other structures as far as safety is concerned."

Members of the commission asked their study be continued another year. They recommended the law banning revolving doors after July 1 be amended. They would allow these doors to continue in use where they are not the immediate exit and on the condition there are regular doors near-by.

200 Made Citizens

Approximately 200 men and women were admitted to citizenship today by Judge Charles E. Wyzanski, Jr., in federal court. Lapel flags were distributed to the new citizens after the ceremony by members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Woburn American Legion Post.

Crash Survivor Unaware Wife, 2 Others Killed

Still unaware that his wife, his Coast Guard shipmate and the latter's fiancée were killed in a Charlestown accident, Murray A. Thornton, 21, was given a fair chance for recovery at City Hospital today after doctors completed lengthy surgical work.

He suffered fractures of both legs, a fractured skull, several crushed ribs and internal injuries. Physicians withheld news of the tragedy from him, although Murray repeatedly called out for his wife.

Murray was riding with his wife, Norma, 22, in the rumble seat of a coupe driven by William R. Storer, 26, of Loft ave., Bald-

Deer Saved Once, Dives Back to Ice

OLD SAYBROOK, Ct., March 4 (AP)—State police and coast guards rescue a deer floating down the Connecticut river on an ice floe yesterday.

The deer, fed and bundled in blankets, was left in a shanty for the night.

When the blankets were taken off today the deer plunged into the river again and climbed aboard another ice floe headed for Long Island Sound.

The rescue party shoved off again. One man said: "If we ever get that critter back, we're going to blindfold it and take it into the deep woods."

SWEETER 'N' SWEET—The sugar harvest in Palm Beach county, Florida, is expected to yield enough sugar for every man, woman and child for a one month period, according to Norma Parker who adds sweetness to the scene as she starts the sugar cane harvest. Int'l News Photo

Lawes Arrives To Probe Prison

Lewis E. Lawes, famed penologist and former warden of Sing Sing Penitentiary, arrived at South Station with his wife today, prepared to start an investigation of parole conditions and other complaints which led to last week's nine-hour revolt in State prison.

"I don't know just what they want me to do," Lawes said. "I'll find out when I confer with the Governor this afternoon."

Mr. and Mrs. Lawes were met at the station by Harry Kalus, secretary to the Governor, and escorted to the Ritz Carlton where they will stay. Later Lawes went to the State House to confer with Gov. Tobin.

Comm. Doyle plans to visit the prison later to confer with Warden Langan in connection with the food situation, one of the grievances of the inmates which led to their sit-down strike.

Card. Spellman Due In U. S. Tomorrow

LISBON, March 4 (AP)—Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar accompanied Francis Cardinal Spellman on a morning-long tour of Lisbon today, just before the Cardinal's scheduled departure for his New York home and a gala welcome there tomorrow night.

Cardinal Spellman and Salazar visited the Monastery of Jeronimos and knelt before the altar of Our Lady. In company with Manoel Cardinal Cerejeira, they also visited the tombs of the explorer Vasco da Gama and King Emanuel. Thirty automobiles carried members of Cardinal Spellman's party and others on the tour of the Portuguese capital.

Cardinal Spellman arrived last night from Madrid, where he talked for 15 minutes with Foreign Minister Alberto Martin Ar-

Cardinal Spellman said mass at 9 a. m. in the Church of Our Lady of Fatima, a modern-style church built in 1940 in honor of the Fatima shrine.

Many Scarce Items Listed Among Unsold Army Surplus

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—
The War Department advised
Congress today it has declared nearly $2,000,000,000 worth of property surplus in this country but only $390,000,000 worth has been sold.
Brig. Gen. Theodore M. Osborne, giving the figures to the Senate Defense Investigating Committee, emphasized the department itself does not dispose of surplus property. The Reconstruction Finance Corp. is the principal disposal agency.
At the end of January, Osborne said, Army depots had $1,596,000-

000 worth of goods in surplus accounts.
"Is all that useable in the civilian economy?" asked Sen.
Tunnell, D., of Delaware.
Osborne, replying that he thought most of it was, said 877-959 hand towels have been declared surplus and the Army still has 671,999.
Other items, he said, include
442 dental chairs, 637 microscopes,
56 X-ray machines, 396 hospitality sterilizers, 6328 rubber boots, 174 portable gasoline driven power generators, 263,799 screwdrivers, 7723 alarm clocks, 248,513 whisk brooms, 64,115 women's pajamas and 438,839 one-pound packages of powdered laundry soap.
Larger machinery includes 81 cranes, 60 ditch diggers and 354 tractors.

Ex-GIs Clash When Cars Do

When Jeremiah Donahue, Miller ave., Brockton, ran into a fellow ex-GI in Park sq. a week ago it wasn't exactly a joyful reunion, according to his testimony today in municipal court.
Donahue told Judge Gillen the other ex-soldier, Joseph Marsden, 26, Norfolk st., Roxbury, gave him
this story when their automobiles collided: "Be a good Joe, will you? I just got out of the Army, and besides there isn't much damage."

"It told him to tell it to the chaplain," Donahue testified, "I just got out of the Army, too."

"When I took his resignation
he walloped me in the nose."

Donahue continued. "He broke

Judge Dillon found Marsden guilty of assault and battery and continued the case for one week to see how Donahue's nose mends.

I don't believe a man lives who hasn't been asked on at least one occasion to serve as a solicitor for some worthy charity. I can't believe a man lives who hasn't dreaded the call. I know I did for years, until 1939 in fact, when the Red Cross, the loan officer at my bank, and an approaching matri-tality all ganged up on me at once so very soon, I too, was on my way with a territory [one office building in Boston] some buttons and a heart beating in 3/4 time. For how easier could I serve out my apprenticeship in good citizenship. Who, pray, could or would refuse the American Red Cross.
Brother, I had it coming to me.
For the next two mornings I got a lesson I'll never forget. My impression is you wouldn't either.
The fact that I was turned down a dozen times to each time I got a contribution [in my case they were all the same, one dollar] ruined my opinion of myself. The fact that I, a direct representative of our greatest American charity, got kicked around as I did ruined my opinion of the
"dear public". Everything but Simon Legree's dogs were thrown at me and the fact that I totalled four dollars when I was through doesn't tell the whole story. Two of those four dollars were obtained by the rather involved expedient of promising the two public stenographers in that building stenographic work to compensate them for their contribution.

I don't want to delve into all the arguments that were heaped on my balding head. Most of them would serve as no brief for reducing the voting age from 21 to 18.
And while I respect the man who says "no" with no embellishments when that is what he means, one statement that I heard most often I'd like to discuss—the one that goes "oh, sorry, my wife [or husband] has already contributed in Belmont [or Braintree] as the case may be]. Couldn't you this year make your contribution where-ever you prefer to and then distribute a dollar or two to your wife and children just so they too may have the fun of giving and so no worker would be turned down.
You have no idea what this would do for those poor slaves who work by day and suffer by night. Their happiness is a legitimate interest of ours, too, because should they become discouraged who knows but you and I might be called and that, of course, would be terrible.

Now I hope you won't get the impression that I believe that anyone who refuses the Red Cross is a rodent. After all I know the other side of the story, too.
All ground floor retailers know the other side of the story and sometimes it gets under their skin.
But what this started out as was a plea for the lovely solicitor—that nameless, irrational, self flagellant who will, sometime in March, call on you for your contribution. Give him what money you can, but above all give him a smile or, if this is congenitally impossible, turn up the corners of your mouth at least. It will be a nice interlude from the old shoes, Great Danes, and hour long excuses thrown in his direction. Remember he isn't bolting his supper, incuring his wife's disgust and facing this stinking weather night after night because he likes it, but because like jury duty he has accepted what somebody must.

Won't you contribute generously? Believe me the Red Cross needs the gift and you need the giving.

State Payroll Reform Urged

Norman MacDonald, executive director of the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers' Ass'n, today called on a legislative committee to approve a sound and equitable state payroll plan, declaring that with a $40,000,000 payroll "we can no longer continue with a hit-and-miss schedule."

MacDonald, addressing a ways and means committee hearing, said a new salary system is "desperately needed."

He opposed a public service committee program on the ground that it would not correct inequities and that it was a "hasty and inadequate consideration of the Griffenhagen report." He said there had been a disregard of basic principles involved in classification of positions.

Given 30 Months In Woman Attack

LOWELL, March 4—Robert P. Kelly, 22, ex-service man, Groton rd., Chelmsford, was given 30 months in the House of Correction today after he pleaded not guilty to assaulting a young Lynn Ma-ton last night and carrying two revolvers without a permit.

Mrs. Joyce Peterson, 29, Myrtle st., Lynn, told Judge Arthur L. Eno Kelly followed her as she was walking through the lonely Crystal Lake section of Chelmsford on her way to visit relatives. She testified she ran and he pursued her, finally overtaking her and struggling with her while he threatened her with a revolver. Her screams frightened him off, she said, and he ran, dropping the gun.

Police arrested Kelly at his home after Mrs. Peterson gave them a description of her attacker. They said he had a police record here and had served time in a New York reformatory.

Pol Plans Shower of Nylons

SPRINGFIELD, O., March 4 (AP)—Nylon hose will rain on Cleveland "within a few days," promises Albert Edward Payne, Springfield industrialist, seeking the Republican nomination for Ohio governor.

In a recent publicity stunt there, Payne dropped 150 pocketbooks, each containing a dollar bill and a note asking the finder to return the money "to prove my point that people are honest."

Reporting 80 per cent recovery, Payne said the forthcoming Nylon shower from an airplane would be "a token of appreciation of the honesty of Cleveland citizens."

Where will he get the hose? "People running for governor will be very surprised to know how I accomplish difficult tasks," he replied, without elaboration.

The clash occurred near a tram station in the heart of Alexandria when a crowd demonstrating near the Atlantic Hotel, British owned, attempted to pull down a British

Oratory Test Wins Dr. Staley's Praise

By BERT FORD

In tribute to a great American, a military leader and statesman, five colleges in Greater Boston today announced that their students would enlist in the 1946 Hearst Newspapers National Oratorical Contest, the subject of which is: "Andrew Jackson, Seventh President of the United States."

The colleges already preparing their students for this contest are:

Boston University, Staley College of the Spoken Word, Salem Teachers College, Northeastern University and Tufts College.

The contest is open to both high school and college students in 13 great cities throughout the nation and is a tribute to a great general and a great President. Endorsing the contest are leading educators, churchmen and statesmen.

Dr. Delbert Staley, president of Staley College of the Spoken Word, declared this educational enterprise would be an inspiration to the patriotism of American youth.

"Each year," Dr. Staley said, "this oratorical contest has created great interest in the student body of our college. Two of our students have been winners in local finals in Boston."

Last year, one of the local finals winners was a Marine Corps sergeant, Thomas Griffin, wounded in action on Guadalcanal. We have several other discharged veterans of combat in our college this year, and they have already enlisted in the contest."

Boston this year is headquar-

Prisoner at 13

Andrew Jackson, at the age of 13, and during the War of the Revolution, was captured and held prisoner by the British. He never forgot the two years of imprisonment which he suffered.

These years, after he had reached maturity and leadership as a great American military general, had imbued him with a sense of freedom. It was for freedom he fought and lived—for the freedom of his nation, and his fellow-citizens.

ters for both Eastern Zone and national finals, and these finals will be held in Boston Latin School, oldest public school in America.

Local finals will be held April 10 in Faneuil Hall. Eastern Zone finals will be held April 24, and the national finals on May 2. National and local awards in the contest will total $25,000 in Victory Bonds, equally divided between high school and college groups.

The contest is honored by having as national honorary chairman Mrs. Beatrice Ayer Patton of Hamilton, widow of the great and victorious American general, George Smith Patton. In paying tribute to another great American general, Andrew Jackson, Mrs. Patton says:

"Andrew Jackson was one of our great founders. He was born, lived and died in a time of struggle, and he knew that what is worth having is worth fighting for, and what is worth fighting for is worth keeping."

Local awards in the contest are: First prize, $250; second, $100; third, $75; fourth, $50; fifth, $25, all prizes in Victory Bonds.

POSTAL POSITION OPEN

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—The Civil Service Commission has announced that applications will be received until the close of business March 27 for the postmastership in Hampden, Mass.

Here are the things you want in a GOOD JOB

If you set down and made a list of all the advantages you'd like to find in a job, you'd wind up with something very close to what the Regular Army offers you right now. If you've never thought of an Army job that way, check over these points:

1. GOOD PAY

Most of your Army pay is clear savings. Food, shelter, clothes, medical and dental care are all provided. Insurance, amusements and other incidentals cost far less. You're way ahead of the average civilian.

2. TRAINING

It takes first-class technical training to handle the Army's modern equipment. That's why you get thorough instruction in one or more of 200 skills. The best trade schools in the world fit you for a future career.

3. TRAVEL

If you join for 3 years you can choose not only the overseas theater to which you wish to go, but also your arm or branch of service.

4. STEADY WORK

There's no uncertainty about your Army job. No lay-offs. You work eleven months a year and get twelve months' pay, with a 30-day paid vacation every year.

5. ADVANCEMENT

The new Army needs a high percentage of technical experts. If you have the ability, you can earn quick promotion to higher grades, with more pay. And there's always an opportunity for qualified men to become candidates for officers' training.

6. CARE OF DEPENDENTS

The Army pays liberal family allowances for dependents of men who enlist before July 1, 1946. Army service need not interfere with a happy married life.

7. THE FUTURE

Every young man who joins the Army before October 6, 1946, is entitled, under the GI Bill of Rights, to further education after discharge. After a 3-year enlistment, for example, you can have a full course in college, trade or business school, with tuition up to $500 per ordinary school year paid by the Government, as well as $65 a month for living expenses—$90 a month if you are married.

8. SECURITY

If you choose to stay in the Army, you can retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service, and so on up to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. As a civilian you would have to pay $84 a month for annuities to provide such a retirement fund.

9. START NOW

You can take this job immediately if you are 17 to 34 years of age, and physically and mentally fit. Enlistments may be for 1½, 2 or 3 years. Find out more about one of the world's best jobs from your nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Station today!

Zabotin was recalled from Ottawa last December.

The Royal Commission announcement named the four persons who communicated directly or indirectly secret and confidential information to the U. S. S. R. in violation of the official secrets act.

The four were named as: Mrs. Emma Woikin, a cipher clerk in the external affairs department, accused of communicating to the Russians the contents of secret telegrams.

Capt. Goron Lunan, a member of the Canadian information service, described by Mr. King as "head of a group of agents" acting under "personal direction" of the assistant Russian military attaché here.

Edward Wilfred Mazerall, electrical engineer in the national research council working on radar, described as one of the group headed by Lunan. He was said to have given two reports of the council on "certain developments" on radar.

Kathleen Mary Willsheer, employed in the office of the British high commissioner as deputy registrar, who had "access to practically all secret documents in that office and made disclosures of the contents of some secret documents from that office."

The report said: "The evidence indicates that, in addition, many other agents were active and that information more intrinsically important has been disclosed. We are not, however, as yet in a position to report with regard thereto as the evidence has not been fully developed."

The document continued that Col. Zabotin was asked to furnish Moscow "information as to telegrams passing into and out of the Department of External Affairs and the office of the high commissioner of the United Kingdom."

The maximum possible penalty for the four accused is seven years imprisonment each. Altogether the document listed 17 categories of information which Soviet agents were instructed to obtain, covering virtually the whole range of scientific research for war.

Data were requested on radar, various electronic developments, explosives materials, artillery research, optical appliances, automobiles and tanks and apparatus for chemical warfare.

The announcement, an interim report from the royal commission, said: "It must not be assumed the above list is exhaustive, but it illustrates the objective of these operations."

The Ministry of Justice announced that all four persons named had been charged with conspiracy and offenses under Canada's official secrets act.

The government earlier had announced that a total of 11 men and two women were being detained in the inquiry. No mention was made of the others in today's announcement.

Col. Zabotin was a tall, handsome figure, unusually popular at Ottawa's many diplomatic receptions.

The interim report said much of its information came from a former employee of the Russian embassy in Ottawa, Igor Gouzenko, a cipher clerk for the military attaché.

Boston American, March 4—13

The announcement said Gouzenko had described the Soviet organization and its functioning and said he produced original documents, "the authenticity of which we accept."

27 Bodies Taken From Wreck of Coast Airliner

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 4
(AP)—Bodies of 27 victims of commercial aviation's worst crash —against the side of a mountain 45 miles east of here—were removed from the wreckage today.
The first bodies, found by shocked sheriff's deputies and Navy sailors, were those of two infants. Removal of the other 25 victims, 15 men and 10 women, was delayed by the difficult terrain.

They had to be carried by litter
a half mile to a bulldozed road, where Navy jeeps were waiting to take them two miles further to an emergency coroner's station and waiting ambulances.

The American Airlines plane, bound from Dallas, Tex., to San Diego on a New York to Los Angeles run, crashed into the slope of fog-hidden Thing mountain yesterday.

It crashed and burned, except for tail and one wing, a few minutes after reporting at 7:53 a. m., over El Centro, Cal.

The worst previous crash,
records disclosed, was Jan. 10, 1945, when 24 persons were killed in an American Airlines plane near Los Angeles.

C. O. D. ☐Tells How Suitor
Burned Her Face

William G. Campbell, 56, of Norfolk st., Dorchester, went on trial in Suffolk Superior Court today charged with assault with intent to disfigure Mrs. Alice Murphy, 35, of Reedsdale st., Brighton, who spurned his affections.

Mrs. Murphy, who, doctors said, was burned on the face, neck and throat by acid, testified she had met Campbell four years ago and saw him again on the night of Dec. 13 while with her sister in a Dorchester cafe.

"He called me to his table and then told me he wanted to go steady with me," she told Judge Francis J. Good and a jury.

"I just laughed at him and went back and sat with my sister, her husband and apothecary couple," she continued. "Then he left."

"But in a little while he came back. He came to my table and said, 'Here's a beer for you, Alice,' throwing it in my face. I was taken to the hospital."

The case is continuing.

Bormann Alive,
Secretary Says

NUERNBERG, March 4 (INS)—Martin Bormann, Nazi party leader and Hitler's deputy, was alive though wounded—but not mortally so—when his secretary left him in Berlin on May 1, 1945. Elsa Krueger, the secretary, revealed this today. Through Bormann's attorney, she declared:

"There is a 50-50 chance that Bormann is alive in the Russian zone of Germany."

The 34-year-old woman was discovered by Defense Lawyer Bergin in a small town near Hamburg by means of confidential German channels. Her discovery terminated months of fruitless search for witnesses.

Q—I have a son in Germany at address: A Battery, 10th FA Bn., APO 3, c/o Postmaster, N. Y. N. Y. What would be his commanding officer's address? T. E. Springfield.

A—His commanding officer would have the same address as a letter addressed to commanding officer, A Battery, 10th FA Bn., APO 3, c/o Postmaster, New York, N. Y., should reach him.

Q—My son's elective office was supposed to be open for him upon return from military service. Now his organization refuses to let him finish his unfinished term. I would like to know if this is possible? E. A. L. Woonsocket.

A—The question is too indefinite for a reply. For example, writer does not indicate whether position was on a paid basis or not. Suggest she address a specific inquiry to the Legal Assistance Officer, Headquarters First Service Command, Boston.

Q—I am a soldier's wife. If I go overseas to live, will my family allowance be increased 20 per cent? M. E. Portsmouth.

A—No. It is a serviceman's pay that is increased while he is overseas, not a dependent's allowance.

Q—How long after a serviceman is killed should one display the service flag for him? C. P. Allerton.

A—The blue star should be replaced with a gold star in the event of a soldier's death and you may continue to exhibit it. No time limit is known to this office.

Q—How is the World War II Victory Ribbon worn? Can you put a battle star on it? M. B. Boston.

A—This ribbon will be worn immediately after the campaign ribbon for World War II. No battle stars may be worn on this ribbon.

Q—Can an officer receive a promotion after terminal leave? A. D. Hartford.

A—Provisions are made for promoting an eligible officer on inactive status in the Reserve of the Army of the United States or Officer Reserve Corps.

Q—Is it possible for a veteran to study abroad under the GI Bill? F. O. Portland.

A—Permission to study abroad at an approved institution will be granted by the Veterans Administration provided certain requirements are met. For example, the veteran must pay his own travel expenses.

Q—Would a former WAC's re-employment rights be protected? A. S. Worcester.

A—Yes. The Service Extension Act of 1941 extends mandatory re-employment rights to all persons who have served on active duty in the armed forces since May 1, 1910.

Q—My husband is 26 years old. He has been in the Army 11 months, but did not go overseas. When will he be discharged? P. C. R. Biddeford.

A—He will be discharged when he has accumulated the required number of points. By June 30, 1946, all enlisted men (except volunteers) with 40 points as of Sept. 2, 1945, or with 24 months' service as of June 30, 1946, will be separated.

"Terry" is the most important thing in the life of 5-year-old Ellen Murphy of 14 Columbus ave., Salem Willows, and she tells why in a letter dictated to her mother.

The letter was today's $5 prize winner in the Boston Record-American contest "Why I Love My Dog." Here is the way Ellen tells it to her ma.

"Terry is four years old March 13 and he's going to have a nice party. He stays with me all the time when I go swimming in the summer and coasting in the winter. He is the best dog in the world. I started kindergarten this year and at first Terry used to try and get on the bus with me. But I told him he couldn't, so now he waits me there and is always waiting when I get off again in the afternoon.

"Terry loves to have his picture taken. You'd think he knew just what was going on. He loves to swim and he is very gentle. He even lets me ride around on his back but my mother says I'm getting too big to take rides now. I wouldn't part with my dog for anything. I know you would like Terry just as much as me if you ever got to meet him."

All letters on the subject, "Why I Love My Dog," should be addressed to the Anti-Vivisection Editor, Boston Record-American, 5 Washington St., Boston 6, Mass. The contest is open to all, and these newspapers will award a $5 prize each day for the best letter.

The Major Picket Line

By Burriss Jenkins, Jr.

RULE BY EDICT

ONCE UPON A TIME—as Abraham Lincoln believed and said—this was a government "of the people, by the people, for the people." But that is not the kind of government we have now.

Our government is today—a COMMUNISTIC labor government—a government incurably addicted to Socialist schemes, to meddling paternalism, to regimentation of the people, and to punitive and confiscatory taxation—a government by edict or ukase instead of democratic legislation—a government that is disdainful of individual liberties and that is essentially hostile to the traditional American principles of equity and social justice for all.

One of the most significant FACTS about this Left-Wing government is that it has had the support of THE COMMUNIST PARTY and the Communist elements—support for its "Democratic" candidates in election after election, support for its oppressive tax levies and for its Marxian legislative programs in one Congress after another.

No less significant is the accompanying FACT that this Left-Wing government has not merely ACCEPTED but has actively COURTIED the support of the Communists.

It has done so by putting and keeping Communists and their fellow travelers in Federal jobs.

It has done so by espousing Communist proposals.

It has attempted to destroy the sources of investment and philanthropy, and to deprive able men of incentive and opportunity, by limiting all private incomes to $25,000 a year or less.

It has tried to cheat the farmers out of their independent way of life by substituting subsidies for honest prices and by interfering with their normal husbandry.

It has made the little business men, the professional men, the small property owners and the salaried groups the victims of gross discriminations.

It has made destructive attacks upon the profit motive, which is the mainspring of progressive capitalism, by such restrictions as the postwar wage-and-price-fixing regulations.

It has endeavored to substitute for our great productive free enterprise a "planned economy" by means of alien devices, including notoriously the recent "Full Employment Bill" and the Administration's plan for socialized medicine.

It has sought to impair the integrity and the sovereignty of the States, and to nullify the benefits of local government, by dividing the entire nation into Federal satrapies under the absolute rule of irresponsible "regional authorities."

THIS kind of Federal government has turned the national establishment into a vast and ever-growing bureaucracy from whose oppressions and inquisitions citizens are denied the constitutional right of appeal to the courts of law.

By its abuse of patronage and largesse, it has converted the Federal treasury into a multi-billion-dollar partisan political campaign fund.

Because of its alliance with—and its allegiance to—the Left-Wing labor minority, it is impossible for this government to have an AMERICAN foreign policy.

It follows a puny and immoral "policy" of "appeasing" Soviet Russia.

Because of its subservience to the Left-Wing, it is impossible for this government to have an AMERICAN domestic policy.

The fruits of its economic heresies are crippled peacetime production in our factories and on our farms, a flood of "printing press" money to "finance" its monstrous deficits—and consequently a frightening and immediate menace of INFLATION—then PANIC and finally BANKRUPTCY.

In its partiality or worse to ONE CLASS, the government makes itself the enemy of EVERY OTHER CLASS.

By fostering and feeding upon CLASS CLEAVAGE, the government engenders CLASS HATREDS—and class hatred is the incubator of CLASS WAR, the COMMUNIST prelude to DICTATORSHIP.

All this—and much more that could be detailed—is NOT DEMOCRACY.

It is A BETRAYAL of democracy; and to betray democracy is to BETRAY THE REPUBLIC.

IS PIPE SMOKING the most objectionable form of smoking? Evidently Judge Francis Lehigh of Brooklyn thinks so. She has a graduated schedule of fines for persons caught smoking in the subway. Cigarette smokers are fined $2, cigar smokers $3, pipe smokers $4. Was the law against smoking in the subway made in order to prevent fire or because smoking is considered objectionable to non-smoking passengers? If the ordinance was designed chiefly for fire prevention which type of smoking would you consider the most dangerous? If the legislation was originated in the interests of non-smokers on the subway which type of smoking would you consider most objectionable? Would you be more disturbed to be subjected to the fumes of a cigarette than those of a cigar? Would you suffer more in sitting next to a cigar smoker than a pipe smoker?

Versatile lady of the theater, "Angel Street," in which Judith made her first hit, had the sixth longest run in theater history. Can you name the first hit plays on this list in a flash and a half? If wagering be careful what you put in the top spot. It isn't "Abie's Irish Rose."

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—All right, smart boy, tell us: 1. Who sang "Rhoda, Rhoda Ran a Ragade?" In what show did George M. Cohan introduce "Life's a Funny Proposition After All?" A—1. Minnie Ashley in "San Toy." 2. In "Little Johnny Jones." . . . Q—What was the name of the brave pugilist who fought an Irishman in Dublin on St. Patrick's Day? A—That was Battling Siki, the Singular Senegalese, who fought Mike McTigue in Dublin on March 17. . . . Q—What is the rating of the ash blonde on your Horses & Woman Department list of the 69 types of blondes? A—Ash blonde is rated No. 46 in order of preference. . . . Q—The Pittsburgh Domino and Horse Playing Club dares you to try to name the winner of the 1946 Kentucky Derby. A—Knockdown will finish first in that race by at least two lengths.

BAFFLED BACHELORETTE: Marriages between widows and divorcees in their middle 30s to men in their middle 20s continue to take place. The thirtyish females marrying for the second time seem to have a pronounced preference for men 10 or more years younger. On the other hand, the young fellows, particularly returned-service men, appear very partial to women of experience. Single girls in their 20s are alarmed and also somewhat bitter regarding this situation. They seem unable to compete with the type of competition in husband hunting offered by widows and divorcees. This is a regrettable state of affairs. Our Mules & Men Department has been instructed to study the situation with a view to offering some practical advice to the aforementioned baffled bachelorettes.

VISUAL PHONE: Television has come from around the corner, but when are we going to get the visual telephone? This type of phone was available to the public at some pay stations in Germany before World War II. When you phone your sweetie wouldn't you like it to be a face to face affair? Of course, on a visual long distance phone call you might have to pay for a lot of time when not talking. The lady would want to take some lipstick applying, hair patting, etc., before answering the phone.

BLONDE SIXTY-NINE: Have heard from many subscribers who say they are "dishwater blondes." This, according to our Horses & Women files is No. 69 in order of preference on the list of the different types of blondes. However, the dishwater blondes don't seem down so much as the young women. These are the characteristics which do much to make a marriage a success. Keep this in mind, young fellow. The next time you meet a dishwater blonde give her your careful attention. She might make a wonderful wife for you.

HORRIBLE SUGGESTION: "Hanging was too good for that Jap rat Yamashita," writes a New Yorker. "They should have made him spend the balance of his life riding on a Lexington ave. bus during rush hours and the rest of the day tied to a chair listening to a radio tuned in on nothing but singing commercials."

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.
TUCSON, Ariz., March 4—I have been meaning to tell you something about this interesting and rather loose-jointed city in the Southwestern desert and the country around and about.

I am afraid we are having a little boom because we are so badly crowded that our Sunshine Club has been sending out word that this would be a good year not to come here and new little houses are popping up all over the place.

Westbrook Pegler

However, I am confident that we will never be another Miami because, after all, we have no sea, and even allowing for a slip-up in the weather this winter, Miami and all Florida, south of a line drawn across the state above Palm Beach, are usually hotter.

The weather really did slip for a few weeks. Snow twice, if you can imagine, and almost every day ice on the dog's drinking basin, for about three weeks.

WE HAVE nothing to offer comparable to the luxury and excitement of the fast Florida resorts and most evenings the town is dark and the streets are quiet soon after the movies let out.

Our race track runs only on Sunday afternoons and the steeds are quarter-horses and, as for table-games, I can report that, since 1940, I have heard of only two play-rooms in town, both running on the sneak, one of which was fearfully exposed by our press and put out of business. I never heard what happened to the other.

The other day I read where George Dixon reported from Miami that wild extravagance was rife and that the noisiest spenders were black-marketers and absolute scum.

CHARLES W. HERBERT, a Hollywood and news-reel camera man, who spent years flapping around the world doing movie features called "The Magic Carpet" and "Going Places," has a knack of finding such pioneers and doing their stories.

A veteran of the first war, he was living here when Pearl Harbor happened, joined up as a lieutenant in the Signal Corps and served in the Aleutians and at Anzio.

Last year, soon after he was discharged, as captain, he discovered a man making a home of tamped earth, which means that he was shoveling soil into a wooden form and mashing it down with an iron tam on a stake. Recently, he came on a family of six from Michigan, parents and four children, whose story, briefly is this:

The man's back was hurt in a farm accident and he was paralyzed for a time but recovered sufficiently to work in a war plant. He said that when he brought home his first pay they started a saving spree instead of a spending spree and when the doctor said they ought to come to this climate for the health of one of the children they bought a trailer and landed in the desert on the outskirts of Tucson.

They paid $350 for an acre with city water and sanitation, bought a lot of cement blocks and built a house entirely themselves, including the plumbing and wiring and the roof. Material cost them $1900.

Mr. Herbert is that kind, himself. He could make his own house if he hadn't one already and most of this last year he has been doing just about that in remodeling and outfitting an old building in town for a commercial photographic studio.

In picture stories he does about the same that Ernie Pyle did in words when Ernie was rolling across our country discovering America and Americans, before he went to war.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 4—Errol Flynn and Ida Lupino got along so beautifully—and “so beautifully” is what I mean—in “Escape Me Never” they are to be teamed again in “Autumn Crocus.”

“Autumn Crocus” is the Francis Lederer play which Jack Warner bought fully two years ago and then put away. Now he’s given it to Henry Blanke to get ready for Flynn and Lupino.

If Errol takes that trip he plans around the world, I’d say it will be a good year before he makes it, but it could be the trip is publicity for his book. Errol, you know, has turned verra, verra literary on us and is making plans to write still another epic. I certainly admire anybody who, after writing one book, has the courage to tackle another. That’s really a job.

I KNOW SOMETHING and I’m going to tell! Claudette Colbert is all signed, sealed and delivered for “State of the Union” at Paramount. Henry Ginsberg, Y. Frank Freeman or any of the rest better not deny it because I know what I’m talking about. She’s going to co-star with Gary Cooper and, my friends, that’s a combination that will bring ‘em into the box office. Claudette’s contract was sent to New York and she’s really been a sensation there with people mobbing her every time she’s appeared.

“The Glass Menagerie” is Cary Grant wants to produce it as an independent venture with himself in the role of the son. Don’t think for a moment that the asking price for the screen rights of $400,000 plus a percentage of the profits is worrying Cary, who can get that much money without any trouble. He has also asked Laurette Taylor to do her role of the mother on the screen and with Cary, why she would be out of her mind not to accept.

HAD JEAN HARLOW lived, today would have been her 35th birthday. It is difficult to believe that the glamorous platinum blonde has been dead all of nine years. On “baby’s” birthday anniversary—as her mother, Mrs. Jean Bello, always called her—came the news that Mrs. Bello had been secretly married for the past two years to Heine Brand. Their marriage was known only to their families, but with the second anniversary of the marriage came word of a pending divorce. In other words, marriage and divorce were announced simultaneously.

GARBO, just as you and I knew she would do, has turned down “Arch of Triumph.” She’s had 50 scripts submitted to her in the last year and has refused all of them. There was only one story she really wanted to do and that was “The Life of the Heart,” the story of George Sand. She took the idea to MGM but they felt it was too similar to “Song to Remember,” in which Merle Oberon played Sand. Garbo still feels there’s an entirely different story in “The Life of the Heart” since it deals with Sand’s romance with Alfred de Mussey, and “Song to Remember” was mostly about Chopin and Sand.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: Keenan Wynn has been carrying a broken rib and sore chest following the trouble in which he was featured at Lindy’s restaurant in New York. There’s a lot of talk the two men who chose him were underworld characters. They certainly gave Keenan an unmerciful pounding—even kicking him when he was down. Seems neither man cares for Hollywood actors and when Keenan said something that was supposed to be out of turn they jumped him. It’s too bad it had to happen because Keenan is such a nice guy and not the type who fights in public.

ADRIAN’S WAS filled to overflowing all three days of the fashion show and the girls were busy marking off the dresses they liked. I was there the first day with Virginia Zeanuck, who said she marked about 50 dresses but would probably end up with three. Funny thing, Ann Rutherford, Margaret Sullivan and one other girl all came in the same plaid jacket, and Adrian didn’t even blush. Janet Gaynor looked awfully cute in a beige suit and smart matching hat. The dresses are very pretty this year—so feminine and fluffy. I saw at least five I’d like to have but am waiting until the rush is over and also until after March 15, when I’ll be poorer but wiser.

JOHN STAHL says 20th is taking unusual precautions to protect Peggy Cummins’ health because she will be in every one of the 364 scenes of “Forever Amber,” which require her presence on the set for the 128 days of shooting. If Peggy is unable to show up for work for one full day it will cost 20th $24,000. So John has engaged a special nurse and dietician to keep a close check on her throughout the entire schedule. Heard today that Mary McGuire, pretty English girl who has come back after being away all during the war, is being tested for a part in the picture. I hope Mary gets it.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Zorina, famed ballerina and Goddard Lieberman, executive of Columbia records, will marry as soon as the dancer finishes her current picture at Universal. He is now in Hollywood visiting her; Susan Peters is being moved to a Santa Monica hospital to see if the old flu cannot be cured; never have I seen anyone as happy as the Charles Feldmans, who have been promised a visit from the stock after 11 years of married life; Victor McLaglen’s next daughter-in-law will be Veda Ann Borg. His son Andy is crazy about her and the three—Vic, Andy and Veda—all had dinner the other eve at the Brown Derby. Conrad Nagel and his bride were also seen dining at the same place; Rita Hayworth and Jimmy Stewart gave the paying customers a thrill when they appeared at King’s restaurant. My money is still on Tony Martin who, by the way, has signed a new contract with MGM. Arthur Freed stopped in Chicago to get Tony’s signature.

BEVERLY TYLER, who is seldom permitted to step out, had dinner with Peter Lawford the other eve; Audrey Totter is hitting the hot spots with Al Bloomingdale, who is back among us again. He and Betty Newling are apparently all through; Lin Howard’s 18-year-old daughter, Mimi, is getting married to Walter Collins at a big San Francisco wedding. She is the granddaughter of the “Seabiscuit” Howards and Lin has been associated with Bing Crosby. Mrs. Franchot Tone will be in the wedding party; Barry Fitzgerald was 59 yesterday and doesn’t look it; now I’ve heard everything! Eddie Scofield, bright young press agent, is teaching students of U. S. C. how to be press agents. We can only say the course can be taught in one word—schmaltz; the Irving Feins welcomed a girl. Papa is with Columbia pictures. That’s all to day. See you tomorrow.

TWO PESTS are these: (1) the person who calls you on the telephone and says, “Guess who this is?” and (2) the person who says, when you’re obviously vague about a former meeting, “You don’t remember me, do you?” Don’t be coy or inconsiderate . . . give your name at once.

Broadway

NEW YORK, March 4—

Cafe business has dropped around town. Experts blame the stock market dip

Intimates hear that Madeleine Carroll could have a wedding ring from a two-star general if she'd say "yes" . . .

Winston Churchill's daughter, Sarah, is being offered to films by a local agency . . .

Mrs. Franchot Tone is recuperating after an operation at Hollywood Hospital . . .

Van Johnson and Sammy Renick are a new Damon-Pythias combination. Became chummy in Florida and now are inseparable . . .

Shep Fields and his Mrs. are shopping the local adoption homes for a blue-eyed baby boy . . .

A famous Broadway actress has the theatrical set agape. She paints the town vermilion with very, very young actors and chorus boys . . .

Martha Raye and Nick Condos (who adore each other) staged the loudest verbal battle of the season at the Latin Quarter bar the other night. Colorful, too . . .

June Havoc went under the knife last week at New York Hospital . . .

Has it been reported that an English film producer bought Bertie Lawrence's book for $1,000,000?

PRINCE BERNADOTTE, who gave up his chance of a throne to marry for love, visited the Champagne Room at El Morocco with his bride the other evening and asked the sentimental violinist who holds sway there to play "Sag Bein Abschied Leise Service," which oddly enough is the tune the Duke of Windsor requested on his last visit to the same room. (I am informed the title means "Say At Parting Softly Toodle-Do," but I find it hard to believe) . . .

Mrs. Otto Kruger, who lost the sight of one eye after an accident some time ago, has regained it. Doctors had given up on her.

TOPS IN TOWN: Milton (Better 'n ever) Berle at the Carnival . . . Harrison and Fisher's amusing terpsichorean showing Sid Caesar (the comic who stole "Stars and Spars") with a $2500-a-week offer . . .

The new documentary film, "Night Club Boom" will be previewed, appropriately enough, in a night club. An audience of cafe owners and entertainers will see it at Monte Carlo this week . . .

Cary Grant has the prettiest manners of any star to come out of Hollywood in recent years. He spends hours being thoughtful and polite to people he never heard of in his life—even calls press agents to accept or regret and thank them for invitations to cafe openings . . .

Because of the trend toward louder and gayer male apparel, obviously the result of years of uniformed monotony, the Coq Rouge is planning a fashion show of Easter hats for men . . .

The year's highest paid author is Sydnie Nathan, an advertising executive of Wilmington. He was paid $2000 for a two-word slogan . . .

The New York area will have four huge new dance palaces ready for the jitterbugs by early 1947.

THE SAME THING, in greater or lesser measure, is going on all down the line. Firms are refusing to make certain articles because they don't like the prices. Instead they put out similar lines, but under different names, so they can demand a lot more money.

I had a personal experience with this down in Miami, which is the chiselers' paradise this season. The laundry didn't come back and I had to have a white shirt because I wanted to go out with some white ribboners. Well, I am strictly a $2.90 shirt, so I went looking for same.

I tried all over. Finally I got into one store. The fellow said they hadn't had an ordinary white shirt in months and didn't expect any for months more, but added:

"We have a special type of sport shirt which, if worn with a tie, will pass very nicely as a dress shirt."

He brought it out—and it was an ordinary white shirt with a fancy label. The price was $15!

Oh, sure, I bought it. I had to have a shirt—even though I knew I was being taken by a thief.

I HAVE BEEN pretty critical of labor unions, particularly labor leaders, in the past. But capital has also been far from guiltless. Big business has been doing some rotten chiseling and over-cutting.

The old American idea of business integrity seems to be taking an awful kick in the pants. Manufacturers are deliberately holding back goods, or manufacturing phony lines, so they can demand exorbitant prices. It provides a terrible temptation to the business man who wishes to remain honest. He sees the chiseler prospering and begins to wonder if honestly really is the best policy.

YOU MAY ASK why CPA is letting manufacturers get away with this: why it doesn't crack down, and hard. The reason is it doesn't dare.

The truth is that the wartime powers under which it is functioning could never be sustained in court if put to the test. The powers were legal during the war but were sustained by public opinion. That's getting to be a very weak reed now.

JIMMY MORRISON, of Louisiana, is buttonholing people with this story:

A fellow is in the movies and suddenly realizes that the party sitting next to him is a big black bear.

He tries to get his mind back on the picture but can't. Finally, he leans over in front of the bear and whispers to the fellow two seats away:

"Do you know there is a bear sitting next to me?"

"Certainly," replies the other. "It's my bear. What of it?"

"Nothing, I guess," says the first fellow, "but don't you think it's kind of funny bringing a bear to see a picture?"

"I don't see anything funny about it," retorts the other, "considering how much he enjoyed the book!"

I would like to say a few belated words of approval about the appointment of Julius A. Krug as Secretary of the Interior. He has shown himself to be a capable, hard-hitting business administrator.

I don't care if Cap is no beauty—he is certainly better-looking than Ike.

MY TALKIN' DUCK AIN'T SAID NOTHING FOR A WEEKS AN' DA JUDGE GIVE ME DA USA TALK GET A PARROT WHAT TALKS GOOD AN' KEEP IT NEAR MUR DUCK AN' MAYBE ITS GABBIN' WILL START DA DUCK TALKIN' AGAIN!

Boston After Dark

MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS: The Boston housing situation is bad enough, as everyone knows . . . But you should hear the squawks by Hollywood actors and actresses who temporarily must find habitation in New York

Demands by landlords of $5000 bonuses (ostensibly for the furniture that goes with a vacant apartment) are being demanded and paid . . .

One Hollywood ham, currently in a big hit, is burning the wires with his protest about what a Manhattan landlord did to him

The actor paid a $3500 bonus for cheap furniture, and then almost collapsed when the landlord had the nerve to add: "One thing more Mr. B. . . .

The wife wants to see your show. I can't buy tickets at any price . . . You'll have to throw in a couple of ducats for the trouble I went to in getting this furniture." . . .

The actor left the seats in the landlord's name, and they were good ones . . .

The lease was signed the next day.

AFTER FOUR YEARS' cancellation, the National Horse Show will be resumed in the fall . . .

New York is tabling "Little Brown Jug" and "Like It Here" as shows to be anticipated . . .

What has happened to Ina Claire? . . . It seems that this fine comedienne should have a play coming along—preferably by S. N. Behrman . . .

Charles Oster of Magnolia is in New York from the Canadian Far North . . .

The Oster gold mine strike, which was told of here a year ago, was a real bonanza . . .

The stock has risen up 2000 per cent since the day in Washington when we sat alongside Charlie in a hotel room while he turned down brokers' orders for nearly a million dollars . . .

News of the gold strike reached New York without Oster knowing of it . . .

With so many bogus gold-mining "jiggles" originating in Toronto, where the boiler room operators get better protection than the one out in America, the authorities are trying to warn the American public against the blood suckers.

THE P A M P H L E T E E R I N G business—which booms when the comintern concentrates on winning a new victim—has filled N. Y. news stands with an amazing array of "literature," most of it devoted to the party line . . .

Even under wartime scarcity of newsprint and white paper, the Reds used their Washington connections to high advantage . . .

A joker in the regulations banning increased allotments for established publications, and curtailing most of them to pre-war shipments, did not apply to new publications . . .

The comrades have copied famous publications so brazenly that one of their magazines, which uses the same format and front page layout as one of the country's best known monthlies, uses the first part of the mag's title.

ONE REASON for the success of Mr. Billingsley's Cub Room annex of the Stork Club is a trio . . .

Jack Spooner and John Keville, both from New England, have been partners in the watering business since 1911, and the third of the group, Eddie Johnson, has been a partner of the first two for 25 years . . .

As maître d' and captains, Spooner, Keville and Johnson have complete charge of seating and serving Cub Room guests.

THE NIGHT CLUB boom is tapering off (as Boston's slump of the past two months indicated) but a $50 note for finding a good table for a guest in the Cub Room is not a unique token of appreciation . . .

But they are fine lads—Jack, John and Eddie . . . Courtney Burr's show "Little Brown Jug" goes to the Martin Beck Theater March 12 and will have to move a week later if "St. Louis Blues" takes up its booking at the same theater . . .

The Burr play is in shape for New York but

"St. Louis Woman" is supposed to need further tinkering.

THE WESSON BROTHERS of Cambridge are snagged in their attempt to split the act because one of them (I never know which is Gene) wants to take a job in Hollywood . . .

A manager who paid $75,000 for their contract is objecting, and they are alleged also to have contractual commitments which call for their playing several more engagements together . . .

Mexico City's season is not starting so promisingly as it did last year . . .

Although it is not admitted, probably on the familiar and praiseworthy grounds of good neighborliness, an undercurrent of dislike for North Americans comes to the surface too frequently to permit Americans to be wholly at their ease in the country beyond the Rio Grande . . .

Seven hours to Los Angeles from New York is promised by one air line for the fall.

A SEQUEL to our note, South American sugar bags being used widely in their converted form of restaurant napkins: the Villa Nova soon will cover its polished tables with the first Irish linen tablecloth to be received here since the war . . .

And the napkins will be of the same precious material, Rocky Palladino hastens to let us know.

THE NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL ROUTE OF THE FLAGSHIPS

A Paragon of Efficiency Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

FROM THE top of her head to the tip of her toes . . . the perfect secretary . . . usually the boss' alter ego . . . is a paragon of efficiency AND femininity. For can you imagine any high-pressed business executive wanting to dictate to an automaton devoid of some semblance of the pleasantry of her sex?

The girl who makes the grade as a private secretary . . . as the high-salaried feminine careerist with all the office answers on the tip of her tongue . . . is not only the gal whose mind is keen and comprehending . . . but she's also, nine times out of ten, the girl who makes a personality impression . . . who has all the beauty and fashion answers written into her flawless complexion and her trim and modishly-styled silhouette.

She's good to look at with a pleasantness that makes the trying and demanding details of business routine half as exhausting and exacting as they really are. And there's nothing ulterior in the boss' second glance. He's just exercising his heritage and human right to appreciate loveliness and want it around him to make the starkness of overwhelming activity easier to contend with.

Do you suppose she has enlarged pores . . . or a porous skin . . . or a skin texture which more closely resembles the hide of an elephant? Do you suppose her complexion sports blemishes? Do you suppose she tosses care out of the window and trusts to nature and an unseen power to perpetuate the loveliness of her facial pet?

One of the most effective cosmetics we know . . . and productive of fine results for the complexion troubled with excess oiliness or sporadic blemishes is a brand new beauty item . . . a pore refining cream treatment that gets under the skin's surface to force, literally, impurities out of the skin and out of those little openings which all too often lodge a whitehead, blackhead or pus accumulation.

But it's good for good skin as well. Our complexion loves it. Strangely enough, the cream dries the moment it touches the skin . . . contracting the pores . . . tightening and firming the facial contours simultaneously. Then, when it is rinsed off the face, it leaves the complexion soft-smooth and beaming-bright . . . a pleasure to behold. This treatment, pursued several times a week, is comparable to a spring tonic for ridding the complexion of the minus defraction so undermining to feminine poise and pulchritude.

For the name of this new pore-refining mask treatment, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Berets Have Gone High-Hat

By BETTINA BEDWELL

BERETS, along with a lot of other millinery have gone high hat this spring. And not only are the new berets tall, they are likewise apt to be fat, and, in all, as imposing as a cartoon clubwoman. They are, I must say, however, a lot younger looking.

Like most of the other new millinery, the beret is usually worn back on the head, leaving the face exposed to the world.

Another fashion point about berets is that they are often done in two colors like the Madame Pauline model Miss Dulin has sketched. This hat is both fat and high and it is made of beige felt, half of navy. It is worn back and has a very young and charming air with a spring suit.

THE SECRETARY who looks as beautiful and perfectly poised as lovely Lana Turner has little to worry about . . . in herself or her job. But the girl who's trying to make the grade better take a leaf from the beauty book and render the complexion flawless, the hair attractively coiffed, the legs and ankles trim and slim and the garb figure-fine and fetching. All of which adds up to a perfect-looking secretary. A brand new pore refining mask is better than a spring tonic

School Girl's Love Affair

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am so troubled. I have such a problem on my hands. I'm a high school girl, but I am really far more mature than the average high school girl.

I am in love with a married man. I fell in love with him three years ago. I haven't been seeing him steady since then, because I went away for a while. He is not the kind of man a girl like me should love, and I know it. So therefore, when I came back from my vacation I decided I would never see him again, and I thought I was nearly over him. But then a few nights ago I met him, and he again stirred up that love for him, and now I feel I can never live without him. At the mere mention of his name, my heart does a rumba. Shall I go on seeing this man again and again?

PUZZLED AND WORRIED. You don't really need any answer at all to this letter, do you? You already know perfectly well that you're a very foolish girl indeed if you keep on seeing this man.

You say yourself that you know he is not the kind of man with whom you ought to have anything to do. If you are as mature as you think you are, you'll make up your mind once and for all never to see him again, and stick to it.

Don't sit home mooning about him, either. Go out with boys your own age and have some normal good times. You were "nearly over him" once. You can get entirely over him for good, if you really want to.

Birthday Party Menu for 3-Year-Olds

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN—I am going to give a birthday party for my little daughter who will be three years old next month. Will you please give me some suggestions as to what I should serve the young guests?

P. N. Inevitably, to begin with the dessert, there is the ice cream and birthday cake, without which no birthday party is complete! For the pre-dessert menu, you might serve creamed chicken with bread-and-butter sandwiches, perhaps made of various kinds of bread; milk or a simple cocoa. Or eggs goldenrod on toast. Or bowls of crisp cereal, with the accompanying cream served in gay pitchers.

Cook Pork Thoroughly To Develop Fine Flavor

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

THE RICH FLAVOR of pork makes it a generally popular meat; and since we've had less pork this last year we enjoy it even more when we are able to buy some delicious, meaty pork chops these days. Naturally, we want to have them at their best—and that means careful cooking.

There are certain things to keep in mind when cooking pork. One is that all pork should be cooked thoroughly in order to develop its fine flavor. We know that all pork cuts are tender, so we can use the dry heat roasting method for any of the larger cuts. However, if we cook small cuts, such as chops, by dry heat—they are likely to become hard and dry and over-brown by the time they are thoroughly cooked.

Scalloped Potatoes

Instead of broiling or pan-broiling pork chops, we braise them. This method gives a maximum of tenderness, juiciness, good flavor and doneness all at once.

There are certain differences between pork chops and some other meats. In the way we braise them. Because they usually have quite a bit of fat, we need less additional fat (or none at all) for browning the chops. Also, it is often not necessary to add liquid for the final cooking; merely covering the pan will give enough steam to cook them properly.

AN OVEN SET-UP

One of the features of braising is the convenience of being able to cook the meat either on top of the range or in the oven, after it has been browned. For today's menu, the chops are done in the oven, and winter pears are baked at the same time, to be served with the meat.

In case you haven't tried these two together—pork and pears—you'll be delighted with the combination. The refreshing juiciness of the pears is a pleasant contrast to the richness of the pork. The extra touch of flavor added by cooking the pears with whole cloves is another bit of inspiration.

And while you're about it, why not bake a dish of scalloped potatoes at the same time? It's a good idea to use all the oven space, you know—and scalloped potatoes are grand with pork.

THE BLOUSE—and-skirt look is smart for spring and this little interesting number is one endorsed by the New York Dress Institute. The skirt is of navy flannel . . . and the blouse is made of sand-colored crepe. The watch-fob effect on the skirt accents the slit pockets in smart detailing. Even the pin-tucking on blouse is detailed in geometrical pattern—R. M.

with water, and again in crumbs. Melt drippings in heavy frying-pan and brown the chops all over, slowly. Cover, and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 45 minutes to 1 hour, or until done. Serve on hot platter with baked pears.

BAKED WINTER PEARS

Cut three fresh winter pears in halves and remove cores. Place in oiled pan or baking dish, sprinkle lightly with sugar, and put a few whole cloves in the hollow of each pear. Add enough water to cover bottom of pan. Bake, uncovered, in moderate oven, along with the pork chops. Allow about 40 minutes.

Smart Set Vacation in Bermuda

By BETTY ALDEN

M. R. AND MRS. GEORGE CAREY are off to Bermuda for several weeks vacation to celebrate his terminal leave from the Army.

Mrs. Carey is the former Sister Frothingham, one of society's outstanding glamour girls, who has given up her career as socialite model and songstress in favor of domesticity.

Since their marriage last summer the Careys have found a neat way to solve the housing shortage. Unable to get an apartment large enough for the whole family they obtained a small one for themselves in the same building where Sister already had an apartment. Her little son by a former marriage, George's daughter, Daphne, their governess, Martha MacLaughlin and the cook, share the original apartment and they all have meals together.

Mrs. George Carey

BERMUDA is also the destination of Janice Torngren of Winchester, one of next winter's debutantes, who is going to the Isle of Easter Lilies for her spring vacation from Chevy Chase School.

The other evening Jan was given a bon voyage party by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Torngren at the Oval Room of the Copley Plaza. She danced in a jaunty black sheer wool bolero with ruffled blouse and her sub-deb sister, Sandra, a freshman at Ten Acres, wore a peacock wool frock as she samba-ed with Todd Wyman.

SO MANY prominent women are helping with the Red Cross drive that campaign headquarters on Oliver st. are filled with the attractive ladies society editors are accustomed to seeing at fashionable teas, wedding and night clubs.

One of the busiest rooms is the supply department where Mrs. William Snow and Mrs. Charles White are in charge of volunteer workers. The button you wear after making your contribution, all the stickers, blanks, posters, etc., are distributed by them to solicitors throughout the city, and they are delivered by the Motor Corps girls on busses and trucks. Others in the supply department are Mrs. Edward Dana, Mrs. Charles Proctor, Mrs. Paul Pierce, and Mrs. Earl Stevenson. Anyone who can interpret the various insignia on Red Cross uniforms can tell that these volunteers have given much faithful service to the organization during the war.

FENCING MASTER RETIRES
CLINTON, N. Y., March 4 (AP)—Retirement of Jean Marini Celas, for 25 years professor of Boston American, March 4—25 physical education and fencing coach at Hamilton college, was announced today.

You bet Bobby Loves Ex-Lax! And so do millions of other children. They think that chocolate taste is super! Mothers trust Ex-Lax, too, because it's so thoroughly effective, yet so nice and gentle! Not too strong, not too mild, Ex-Lax is the "Happy Medium" laxative. Next time your youngsters have to "take something," try Ex-Lax! As a precaution, use only as directed. In 10¢ and 25¢ sizes.

WHICH ONE ARE YOU, LADY?

By W. E. Hill

Suspicious Sarah: "Save used fats? Why? With all points off, fats must be plentiful!"

That's food fats, lady! Our supply of industrial fats—the kinds that make the soaps you want—is very low. And if it goes any lower, soap may get even scarcer!

Worrying Winnie: "I think this soap shortage is AWFUL...and maw with two youngsters and a husband to wash for!"

Stop squawking and do something about it, Mrs. Fussbudget! YOU can help put more soap back in the stores by saving and turning in more used fats.

Flightly Flo: "Thank goodness, the war's over, and I don't have to save these messy fats any more!"

That's what you think! If you housewives stop turning in used fats, our fat supply will go lower. Then the share allowed to soap manufacturers may have to be cut, and that will mean still less soap for you and all of us.

Sensible Sue: "I got so in the habit of saving fats during the war, and I'm going to keep right on as long as the government wants."

Let's all keep saving used fats—prevent worse soap shortages. Take them to your butcher and get 4¢ a pound. Remember! Where there's fat, there's soap!

Recruiting Week Opened by Army

Military training for American youth is essential because "the next war will be on top of us in a matter of hours. There'll be no time to train men in radar and the other new arts of war."

This was the opinion of Lt. Gen. Harold N. Gilbert, new head of the Military Personnel Procurement Service, who opened Recruiting Week today. The Army is seeking 70,000 volunteers in Massachusetts for Regular Army service.

Armed is Headed for Great Turf Fortune

By JACK CONWAY

ST. AUGUSTINE, March 5—Calumet Farms' Armed should be one of the big money makers of the year on the form he showed as he toyed with Concordian and a select field of handicappers in the $50,000 Widener Handicap.

It is seldom that a great thoroughbred has outclassed his field as Armed did. While the chart callers gave Armed a victory by four lengths, the Ben Jones trained colt could have won by 10 lengths if Jackey Dodson had called on him for everything he had in the race from the head of the stretch home. When Dodson saw he had the race won he eased up Armed and permitted Concordian to draw closer.

Mort Mahony

The $45,700 purse to the winner started Armed on a 1946 campaign which may see him earn more than $250,000 for the Calumet Farm. Persons who backed Concordian heavily in view of his easy victory over Armed in the McLennan were bitter in their criticism of Jones. This writer had pointed out on several occasions that Whirlaway, who ran so poorly in Florida, later came on to win the Kentucky Derby. A race horse cannot be expected to do as well in early tests as he does in a major race for which he is being pointed.

When Jones brought Armed to Florida he trained him so he would be at the peak of his form for the Widener; Armed did not disappoint. In the McLennan which Concordian won the latter carried 116 pounds. Scores of handicappers figured he would win. The track was given out as good but there were soft spots in the back stretch at post time. Concordian is not at his best in such heavy going.

The chief reason why Armed won, however, was because he proved himself by far the better horse. He might have won with less effort if the race had been over a fast track. The mutual handle of $1,524,179 was off almost $300,000 from the day of the McLennan. The crowd dropped to 25,000 against 34,000 on the previous Saturday. Mort Mahony, head of the mutual plant at Hialeah, declared that the stock market crash was the reason for the drop in the mutual handle.

Mahony stated that many bettors play the stock market and when they suffered losses of from five to ten points they curtail on their betting activities. The decrease in attendance was due to the fact thousands of people are leaving Florida, for the reporter found that there is a car passing through that city for the North every minute.

The high living cost in Florida has made many people anxious to get home. As one moves north, hotel and other charges drop quickly. The 20-dollar-a-day rates of Miami and Palm Beach are replaced by 6-dollar-a-day rates and even lower.

Once Daytona has been reached more normal living costs are noted, particularly by persons playing the races. This writer talked with hundreds of race-goers at Hialeah Park and few of them had made money. Those that are remaining in Florida were hopeful of getting even at the Tropical Park meeting.

With 17 per cent coming out of every dollar bet at a Florida horse or dog track, there is little chance of the better finishing ahead of the game.

One prominent racing official told me Florida was fortunate in that it got a new group of tourists about every ten days. This fresh money has kept the betting boom going ahead madly.

Tribe Hill Staff Capable

By BILL GRIMES

FT. LAUDERDALE, Fla., March 4—Although he had refrained from any comments on the subject, Billy Southworth was worried about the Braves' pitching corps until yesterday's 17-inning 4-4 battle with the Giants at Miami.

Southworth was all smiles this morning and as usual he directed his highest praise at Tim Lincecum, who according to the box score, had made the poorest showing.

Before he got around to make any comments about Al Treichel's sensational feat of getting out of the 12th inning after the Giants had filled the bases with none down, Southworth then went into great detail to explain just what Tim Triner's mates had done to him in the 4th and 5th rounds.

Mort Cooper

There's no denying that the Braves left Triner down. The chunky right hander would have been out of the fourth but for the fact that Connie Ryan failed to give ground and, then broke too fast on a double play ball, thereby paying the way for the Giants to pop up with two runs. In the next round, Bill Jurges, who has a lame arm, unloaded a wild heave and put Harry Feldman, the lead off hitter, in scoring position.

Once he had established the fact that he was perfectly satisfied with Triner's performance, Southworth turned to Al Treichel. Big Al went into the game in the 12th, after large John Hutchings and Mort Cooper each had hurled three scoreless innings before the rangy right hander would get rolling. The Giants loaded the bases. Treichel walked Austin, the first hitter to face him and Bartlett got a life and Austin moved up a base on Gremp's bad throw. By that time Treichel was really on the spot but when Austin beat his throw on Maynard's attempt sacrifice the fans started for the exits.

Any rookie pitcher who can get the next three Giants without getting hurt after the bases have been filled with none out, is well on his way to become a regular, and that is what Treichel did. In the 12th inning yesterday, with the bases jammed, Scherer and Pugh skied to Rowell and Gillenwater in short left and short center, respectively. Then Treichel fanned Shanks and the fans out. There'll be few better exhibitions of "clutch" pitching at any time this season.

During the six innings he was on the mound, Al Treichel allowed only one hit. He turned the Giants back in order in the 13th, 15th and 16th and he pitched himself out of spot in the 14th when the Giants had the winning tally on second, so, Al Treichel definitely is a fixture with the Braves.

Johnny Sains did a nice job for three innings. In the first round he "hung" curves, which Mickie Wittek and Johnny Mize slapped out for singles. Then he settled down, struck out Gordon, Klutts and Kerr in a row and closed his tenure on the mound by getting the next four Giants.

Mort Cooper wasn't scheduled to pitch yesterday, but he took over in the 9th and retired the Giants on six pitched balls. Buster Maynard connected with a hit off Cooper to open the 10th but no damage resulted.

After retiring the sides in order in the 11th, Cooper gave way to Treichel.

After the Braves had been beaten 4 to 1 a week ago by the Giants, Billy Southworth predicted that his charges would show to better advantage in their next game with the Ottmen. He was right.

The Braves will play an intra-squad game this afternoon and tomorrow, then they will taper off for their opening game with the Phillies at Miami Beach on Thursday.

Johnson of Red Sox Saw War at Worst

By HERB FINNEGAN

SARASOTA, Fla., March 4—There will be many a service story come out of the training camps this spring but none more telling than that of Earl Johnson. The Sox southpaw from Seattle has perhaps the best combat record of any man in the majors.

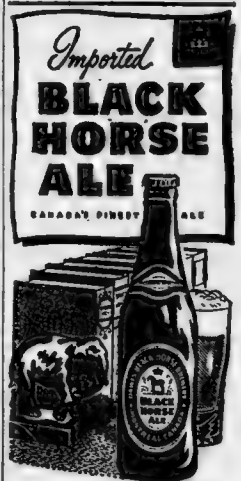

Remember Earl? He made the trip South with Tex Hughson, Bill Butland, Mickey Harris, and Larry Fowler in '41, but was sent back with the rest of them. He won 12 in a row for Heinie Manush at Rocky Mount, finished the season with the Sox (recall his slick motion to first), then enlisted. He was a private in the infantry, and was promoted on the battlefield, and discharged as a first looney. He went into action in August of '44 near the Falais Gap. For the next nine months, with the exception of five days, he was in contact with the enemy as a member of the 30th Division.

"We broke through the Gap and were within five miles of Paris when we were ordered to stop," he began. "We could see the Eiffel Tower in the distance and wanted to be the first troops to enter the city. But we were ordered to swing up into Belgium. We were the first U. S. troops in that country and the first to enter Holland. It was debatable whether we were the first in Germany, but we were there Sept. 15, and I don't know of anybody who preceded us, though others have claimed credit."

"We smashed the Siegfried Line," he went on, "took part in the battle of Aachen, were about to cross the Roer river, but it was too high, so we were promised a rest for Christmas. But nothing of the sort developed because the Battle of the Bulge opened and we were spirited there immediately. We battled around Malmady two or three weeks, then over to St. Vith, crossed the Roer and Rhine and finally met the Russians at the Elbe."

Came V-E Day. He had 85 points and five battle stars. Could he go home now? Not yet, sweetheart! "We were to get 30 days' rest and head for the Pacific. We were in England waiting for the Queen Mary when whoopee! V-J Day was announced. Brother that was a wonderful feeling."

Johnson told of some atrocity cases, seeing 150 U. S. prisoners, medics among them, who had been shot through the forehead by Storm Troopers near Malmady; told of going months without shave or bath; of nearly freezing to death in the snows of Germany. "I never thought I could rob the dead," he said, "but I've gone through dead Germans' pockets."

Bruins Are Good Despite Defeat

By FRED HOEY

Coming home only four points behind the leader, and three points behind the second place team, the Bruins did mighty well on the current trip which carried them through the toughest opposition in the league.

This terrific stretch of five road games, probably the hardest bit of scheduling on record, took a terrific toll out of the Bruins. But the mere fact that their win in Montreal, combined with the razzle dazzle results of other games in which other contenders figured, only adds color to the race.

The Bruins will get better before they get worse. That is more than we can concede to their other contenders. Chicago is operating short handed and the Canadiens are not so hot.

Losing 5 to 3 in Chicago last night to wind up their road trip the Bruins showed flashes of brilliant hockey. All the team now needs is to get organized. A smooth bird like Art Ross is gradually getting his full strength in action and he knows where to place it.

The next manner in which the Red Wings turned back the Canadiens last night 4-2 indicates the Bruins are in trouble when they face Detroit here Wednesday night.

Ex-Catcher for Babe Dies in Hotel Fire

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., March 4 (AP)—Forrest Cady, 53, former Red Sox catcher and batterymate for Babe Ruth when the Bambino was pitching for Boston, died Sunday in a hotel room fire here.

Cady, who was an umpire in the Western League for several seasons, caught for the Red Sox from 1912 through 1917 and for the Phillies in 1919.

Pieretti Finally Reports to Nats

ORLANDO, Fla., March 4 (AP)—Marino Pieretti, scrappy little right-hander who won 14 games as a freshman last season, joined the Senators today for his first workout. Pieretti was eight days overdue in reporting, and nothing had been heard from him for days when he pulled in last night.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

By Jimmy Hatlo

Red Sox Veterans Like Mele's Style

SARASOTA, Fla., March 4—Sam Mele, the "right-handed Williams" from New York U. promises to do better in the second week of Red Sox training than he did in the first.

He was nervous and "tight" and otherwise stage-struck during the first few days of practice, but if the first intra-squad game is any criterion, Sam will show his true worth in the days to come.

Bobby Doerr

Bobby Doerr, Rudy York, Dom DiMaggio, Ted Williams and Johnny Pesky sat it out while the "Huddleston" walloped the "Dowds" 13-3 before a Sunday crowd of 3000. They evinced interest in the many strange faces on the squad, especially when the new men were hitting.

Mele had singled sharply to drive in a run in the four-run first. But it was when Pinky Woods side-armed him in the third that he drew the veterans' plaudits.

"Say," exclaimed Doerr as Mele lined viciously to right, "that kid doesn't flinch, does he?"

"Looks pretty good up there," remarked Williams who makes a study of every hitter in the league.

"Looks real good," said DiMaggio.

Mele straddles at the plate, like Joe DiMaggio, and takes that very short step which enables a hitter to follow the ball right up to the time he swings. For a kid who never played pro ball (he did, however, hit 356 in the Honolulu Naval League and was voted the most valuable player over Barney McCoskey) he is most impressive.

He exhibited a powerful throwing arm when he backhanded Bremer's double to deep left and almost caught the catcher at second base. And for a fellow who was a topflight basketball player he can run.

Not every basketball player is fast. Lou Boudreau was a whizz bag at Illinois but he's not fast. Nor is Ernie Andres, who was an all-America forward at Indiana nor Danny Doyle, an all-America at Oklahoma A. and M.

Andres and Doyle have other qualities. If not speed, however, Andres can hit as he has proved on many occasions. In 1939, for example he hit a grand-slam homer off Tiny Bonham of Kansas City to give Louisville a 4-3 victory. And wonder of wonders, it came on "Andres night."

He led the league in runs batted in, total bases, etc., in 1941, and in 1942 was acclaimed by Mickey Cochrane at Great Lakes "the best third baseman in baseball," that praise seems rather extravagant in view of fellows like Ken Keltner, etc., but Mickey certainly liked the youngster who has inside track on the Sox third base job.

Doyle is a giant of a catcher with an accurate, strong arm. A ringer for Moe Berg, said Tom Daly, but Doyle has better arm than Moe and looks like a better hitter. If he continues to hit when the pressure is on, he may stick with the club along with Wagner and McGah, who have the first two jobs clinched.

CRONIN SPEAKING... "We'll play another game Tuesday or Wednesday. I want to see York, Ted, Dom, Pesky and Doerr play a few innings before we go to Havana" (Friday) . . . Mace Brown's curve ball is breaking sharply . . . Ken Chapman lined safely to left off Brown after Mace fanned pinch-hitter Doerr . . . York singled as a pinch hitter, Pellagrini lined to third, Williams rolled to second, Dom and Pesky walked . . . Chapman is a fine prospect but it's doubtful if he can compete with Andres or Pelly for the third base job . . . Steiner made two beautiful stops in the field and looked like the fastest man thereon . . . Campbell singled, doubled and tripled, but how can he beat out York for first base? Cronin's physical condition . . . In Dom DiMaggio's last time at bat in the Philippines he homered off Early Wynn of the Nats . . . Williams had a double orange juice, rice krispies, ham and eggs for breakfast, so he can't be very ill.

Callahan AC Offers Four 10-Round Bouts

Tommy Sullivan, South Boston, goes gunning for his ninth straight win tonight when he fights Tiger Lou Jones, Portchester, N. Y., in the stand-out of four 10-round bouts which comprise a Callahan A. C. boxing show at Mechanics Building.

Jones whipped Reedy Evans here; lost a close one to Coley Welch; drew with George Kochan.

Because he's been improving rapidly under the tutelage of Harry Kelly, Sullivan will be a favorite. The former NEAAU 175-pound champion, whose pro career was interrupted by a stretch in the Coast Guard, has added boxing skill since Kelly adopted him. Previously Sullivan was little more than an extremely sinewy kid who tried to rip and rough and strong-arm his way by all opposition. Now he's comparatively loose and lithe, with a sharp left hand and a growing repertoire of tricks.

Another light-heavyweight, John Henry Eskew, Brockton puncher, finds a high hurdle in his path tonight in the person of Tony Gillo, New Haven. Gillo recently gave middleweight champion Tony Zale a bitter battle and Eskew, like Sullivan, moves up against a foe of lengthy experience and national recognition.

Other 10-rounders will find Tommy Grab, New West End favorite, colliding with Richie Miyachiro, fast featherweight from California; and Jimmy Mills, Newark, only fighter to beat Joe LaMotta, meeting Ernie Forte, Providence.

Pat Brady Battles Cabey Lewis Here

Pat Brady of Hartford and Cabey Lewis of New York, will toss leather in the Boston Arena ring tomorrow night in a 10-round feature on a Goodwin A. C. fight show.

Leo Mucucci of Fortland, who split a couple of battles with Buddy Hayes, will bump into Al Smith of Roxbury in the eight round semi-final.

The second eight will pair Larry Pacino of Roxbury with Couthel Saffold of New York.

The opening four will collide Frankie Waters of the North End with Charlie Kelley of Toronto.

SQUASH FINAL ON

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—Les Cummings, defending champion from Greenwich, Ct., and second-seeded Al Ramsey of Cleveland were to meet today for the National Pro squash racquet title.

Crack Weston Five Enters Title Play

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Weston high school's basketball team, roaring into the Boston Garden tomorrow afternoon for the opening of the Eastern Mass. championship play, will be sporting an undefeated record of 16-straight as it steps against Howard high of West Bridgewater in the Class C competition.

And on the strength of that classy seasonal mark, it's possible that the little Weston club will be favorite to capture the first C bunting.

Tomorrow's session will start at the unusual hour of noon as Chelmsford faces off against Somerset. Between periods of this game, Ipswich will tangle with Provincetown to form a first half doubleheader. The Weston-Howard clash will be split up with Hanover vs. Weston, nightcap of the first round of competition.

Actually, Weston has chalked up 37 successive triumphs over the past three seasons but Coach Charlie Law's club was overlooked in the selection of entries last winter. Now, with the introduction of a third class of qualifiers, the Lawyers are right in the middle of the fight. This year, there won't be a Coach Law pacing the sidelines, wishing that his Weston team was in the tourney. They're IN—and definitely.

The Weston team actually has six starters, with Tony Malone playing an important utility role. He'll be stepping into center for John White, the high scoring back of football fame: into forwards for Capt. Fred Crafts and into guards for Walt Palmer and Dave Whelpley. He'll be used at any and all openings.

Another team that will bear watching in this first round will be Coach Joe Zapustas' Stetson High of Randolph, tangling with Hanover. South Boston Joe's Stetson team, passing up the Brockton tourney in hopes that its 11-3 record would rate a place, won this gamble and it may break through.

The Stetson line-up will have John Callahan, 6-2 inch, at center; Ken Steward and Frank Dondorf at forwards with Joe Lombardi and Capt. Stan Ferris at guards. Stetson spares will include Bob Hoxie, Walter Hess, John Hurry, Gerald Gaynor and John McDonald.

Class B competition will open tomorrow night at 6... pairings in this division will be defending champion Braintree meeting Barnstable. Rockland tangling with Winthrop, Lexington battling undefeated Dedham and Belmont opposing the High School of Commerce... Class A pairings (opening Thursday night) pit Brockton vs. Duxbury; Attleboro vs. New Bedford; Haverhill vs. Everett and Newton vs. Somerville.

Officials include Arthur Gore, Tony Gentile, Walter Day, Charley Briley, Dick Roberts, Lou Hack, Tommy Murphy, Bill O'Connor, Jim O'Leary, Walter O'Brien, Arthur Borges and Dan Fogarty.

Incidentally: Waltham High's basketball team is demanding a recount after losing out on a Class A bid with a 13-4 record... and the Catholic League All Stars (hockey) will meet Mt. St. Charles Friday night at the Arena... the Mass. Coaches Ass'n will convene Saturday at the Hotel Lenox for basketball, track and hockey clinics.

Ringman, 24, Dies 53 Hours After KO

PHILADELPHIA, March 4 (AP)—Nat Hines, 24-year-old Negro light heavyweight boxer, died today, 53 hours after he was knocked unconscious in a fight with Billy Eck of Allentown, Pa., at the Cambria A. C.

Hines never regained consciousness. He underwent a delicate brain operation three hours after the fight.

Chairman Leon Rains of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission said the operation revealed that Hines had suffered a brain hemorrhage "in a previous fight—maybe two weeks or a month before Friday's fight."
